The Department of Pharmacy organised One Day Workshop on Startup and Entrepreneurship Development on 30th Apr 2021. The resource person for the sessions was Dr. A. Kanaka Durga Associate Professor, Department of Commerce & Management Studies Acharya Nagarjuna University, Guntur.

The objective of the workshop is to introduce the participants with the fundamental of entrepreneurship development so that they can understand the requirements and challenges in this area. The applied aspect of this workshop will be the practical sessions where they can apply this knowledge in decision making.

The resource person explains the concept of Entrepreneurial Development and he helps the students to understand the main components of Entrepreneurship Development. Their networks may be small, siloed, or fragmented. And their cultures may lack vibrancy, trust, and social cohesion. When such gaps exist, leaders must consider the whole ecosystem and enhance each of its elements. She also highlighted the relationship between innovation and entrepreneurial development. Entrepreneurial ecosystems at their heart are based on human relations. Ecosystem builders are creating an invisible infrastructure in their communities to support entrepreneurs. It's not like traditional infrastructure. She describes the theories of innovation and entrepreneurial development. He teaches various techniques of innovation and promoting entrepreneurial culture. 54 students participated in this Workshop.

One Day Seminar on Idea Generation in Non Technical Entrepreneurship

The Department of Pharmacy organised One Day Seminar on Idea Generation in Non Technical Entrepreneurship on 15th Mar 2021. The resource person for the sessions was Dr. Nagaraju Battu, Associate Professor and HOD MHRM Dept Acharya Nagarjuna University

The seminar on “Idea Generation in Non technical Entrepreneurship” was conducted with aim to share Entrepreneurial opportunities in non technical field to students. The resource person highlighted upon the start ups for idea generation and how to focus on making it succeed to the next level. Students interacted with the resource person and the session was very lively. They are system entrepreneurs, working to lift up the whole community to achieve its potential. They play multiple roles, including system architect, champion, advocate, convener, cajoler, traffic cop, air traffic controller, and storyteller. Ecosystem building is emerging as a new profession at the intersection of economic and community development. Successful ecosystem builders must connect traditional, top-down economic development approaches with the grassroots, bottom-up, community-driven environments in which most entrepreneurs thrive. Entrepreneurial ecosystems, at their heart, are based on human relationships. 48 Students were participated in this Seminar.

One day seminar on Building Vibrancy ecosystem in Entrepreneurship Ecosystem

The Department of Pharmacy organized “One day seminar on Building Vibrancy in Entrepreneurship ecosystem” on 19th September 2020. The resource person for the sessions was Dr. G. Syam Prasad, Working as Professor & Head of the Department in Narasaraopet Engineering College. A.P.

The resource person explains many communities have the elements of an ecosystem, but they remain nascent or disconnected. Their networks may be small, siloed, or fragmented. And their cultures may lack vibrancy, trust, and social cohesion. When such gaps exist, leaders must consider the whole ecosystem and enhance each of its elements. In recent years, these individuals have come to be called “ecosystem builders.” He also discussed about Ecosystem builders connect, empower, and collaborate with others to build the whole system. They are system entrepreneurs, working to lift up the whole community to achieve its potential. They play multiple roles, including system architect, champion, advocate, convener, cajoler, traffic cop, air traffic controller, and storyteller. Ecosystem building is emerging as a new profession at the intersection of economic and community development. Successful ecosystem builders must connect traditional, top-down economic development approaches with the grassroots, bottom-up, community-driven environments in which most entrepreneurs thrive. Entrepreneurial ecosystems, at their heart, are based on human relationships. Ecosystem builders are creating an invisible infrastructure in their communities to support entrepreneurs. It’s not like traditional infrastructure. It’s not about physical spaces, fancy buildings, pools of capital, or big institutions. 54 students participated in this seminar.
