One day seminar on Opportunities and challenges for start-ups

The Department of Pharmacy organized “One day seminar on Opportunities and challenges for start-ups” on 24th January 2020. The resource person for the sessions was Prof. Mary Jessica, Professor in the School of Management Studies, University of Hyderabad, Telangana.

The resource person highlighted the recent years, support for entrepreneurship and development of entrepreneurial ecosystems have moved to the top of the international agenda for job creation, income generation, economic growth, and contribution to the sustainable development goals (SDGs). Although no SDG explicitly recognises entrepreneurship or entrepreneurial ecosystems as its objective, both are considered key contributors to many of the SDGs. Entrepreneurial activities can be found throughout the whole economic value chain, including subsistence entrepreneurs, livelihood sustaining entrepreneurs, traditional enterprises, social entrepreneurs, and growth-oriented entrepreneurs. Swiss contact’s targets in many of its projects are growth entrepreneurs as well as social and environment focused entrepreneurs with an ambition to scale and build repeatable business models. Entrepreneurial Ecosystems and the Entrepreneurial Support Organizations (ESOs) play a critical role in entrepreneurial success across the value chain as they provide the necessary infrastructure, access to knowledge, and network for entrepreneurial success.

“Seminar on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)”

One day Seminar on IPR (Intellectual Property Rights) was conducted on 28th Oct 2019 by the department of Pharmacy. The resource person for the sessions was Dr. B. Jaya Prakash, P.B Siddhartha college of Arts and Science.

Sir created a great impact on the entire audience. Students were taught on how IPR restricts copying others ideas and how this will help the development of new ideas for the betterment of the society. Students learnt how IPR provides total control over a new innovation and its creator. They were also given a platform to discuss how small innovations influence societies at large and how they should indulge in innovating and patenting ideas that will be useful for all the classes of individuals in the society.

Intellectual property is a category of property that includes intangible creations of the human intellect, and primarily encompasses copyrights, patents, and trademarks. It also includes other types of rights, such as trade secrets, publicity rights, moral rights, and rights against unfair competition. Artistic works like music and literature, as well as some discoveries, inventions, words, phrases, symbols, and designs can all be protected as intellectual property. The main purpose of intellectual property law is to encourage the creation of a wide variety of intellectual goods. Intellectual property rights refers to the general term for the assignment of property rights through patents, copyrights and trademarks. These property rights allow the holder to exercise a monopoly on the use of the item for a specified period. 49 Students participated and gained knowledge in this seminar.
